ACADEMY

Dear Parents/Carers

Tomorrow, 5th October is World Teacher's Day; a time to celebrate teachers' important contributions to improving the lives of children and youth around the world. Such days are a timely reminder that 'The right to education means the right to a qualified teacher.' This theme was chosen to mark the 70th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (1948) where education is recognised as a key fundamental right. There is a global teacher shortage, and a projected shortfall of 69 million teachers by 2030. We are thankful to be in a position where we are fully staffed with teachers who are passionate about their subjects and teaching our young people. We know that recruitment is difficult and so we do what we can to support the staff we have to keep them. The job isn't getting any easier as we are facing more challenges than we have ever done before. We feel the appreciation from most of our young people and families, but some days can feel difficult. Let's help celebrate World Teacher's together and maybe you could find the time to send an email to someone to just say thank you.

Thought for the Week

This week, in Thought for the Week, students celebrated National Poetry Day, exploring this year's theme of "Counting". Students engaged in thought-provoking discussions about how poetry can reflect numbers, rhythms, and the importance of counting in life, whether it's moments, memories, or opportunities.

In the News

In the News marked the start of Black History Month celebrations. Students began delving into this year's theme of "Reclaiming Narratives," reflecting on stories and perspectives often overlooked or untold. This opened up powerful discussions on how history is shaped by the voices that tell it.

Other News

It was a busy week for Year 11 students and their tutors. Harlow College visited on Thursday to provide insight into post-16 options, while House events on Wednesday saw students competing with great enthusiasm and school spirit. A huge thank you to all who participated and made these events so successful.

Looking Ahead to Next Week

Next week, Thought for the Week will align with World Mental Health Day, where students will explore ways to support their own well-being and others. In the News will continue celebrating Black History Month, further exploring the theme of reclaiming untold stories.

There's also excitement building for some democracy in action as the school prepares to vote for Deputy Head Student candidates. Congratulations to all the candidates for putting themselves forward and for making it this far in the process. You should all be very proud of yourselves. Year 7, 8, and 10 House events will take place, and Year 11 will have another busy week, with visits from Leventhorpe and New City College.

Don't forget, the Careers Fair for Year 10 and 11 students will be held on Wednesday from 5-7pm at the Study Centre. This is a fantastic opportunity to explore future pathways!

YEAR 11 – ROAD SAFETY

At the end of September, the year 11 students took part in an interactive theatre production put on by Collingwood & Safer Essex Roads Partnership.

The performance was called “Dead End” and focused on a road collision that could have been avoided. The themes included peer pressure, distractions as well as drink and drug driving.

The performance was followed by a workshop that got us all thinking about road safety and how we can make positive and safe decisions. We had time to respond to questions and scenarios as well as asking questions and clearing up any confusion or misconceptions when it comes to road safety.

I found the performance and workshop insightful and informative; it has made me think about road safety and what we can do to prevent unnecessary accidents.

Year 11 Harry Potter Studio Tour Trip

We are excited for the upcoming trip to the Harry Potter Studio for our Year 11 3D Design students! The trip will take place on 14th October, and we will be leaving school at 10:15am, aiming to return by 5:30pm. Please ensure students are dressed appropriately and bring a packed lunch. As part of the day, we will be participating in a special Graphic and Prop Design lesson before exploring the studios. We can’t wait for students to immerse themselves in the magical world and let their creativity flow!

DRAMA

On Friday 20th September a small group of GCSE Drama students went to see James Rowland Dies at the End of the Play at Harlow Playhouse. It was a one man show exploring the very human topics of life, death and the moments which shape us.

For many of our students, it was their first experience of such an intimate theatre setting and a good example of the skills and discipline needed in performing an hour-long monologue.

The play provided many conversational topics for our young people and as always, any theatrical experience helps to build and nurture their understanding of the broad range of performance content available.

Our GCSE students are now looking forward to their trip to the West End to see Operation Mincemeat on October 15th as part of their written paper preparation.

Keep your eyes peeled for more exciting Performing Arts trips coming up.

PHOTOGRAPHY

GCSE Photography trip to Cambridge - Tuesday 8th October

For all year 11 students who take GCSE photography, you would have been informed via Parent Mail of the upcoming photography trip to Cambridge. This will be taking place this Tuesday, 8th October. Students will need to meet Miss Richards at Harlow Town train station no later than 9.10am. The morning will be spent at Cambridge University Botanic Gardens, completing a number of photoshoots for their current coursework project based on natural form.

In the afternoon there will be the opportunity to walk into Cambridge city centre to complete a photography walking tour of the colleges, cobbled side streets and the River Cam where the punts are stationed. The whole day will be based outside so please ensure your young person is dressed appropriately for the weather forecasted and sensible footwear is essential due to the amount of walking.

This trip is a fantastic opportunity and will be a great experience for all students, having a whole day dedicated to their photography.

Parents/carers can you please make sure that you complete the online consent no later than Monday 7th October.

Thank you

SPORTS/PE UPDATES

A cold, wet windy Tuesday night.... Not in Stoke but at the Harlow Rugby Club saw us take an enthusiastic group of year 10s and 8s to play rugby. Despite the torrential rain they showed a good account of themselves putting in strong tackles and excellent display of teamwork.

Firstly, the year 10s took on a well-equipped St Marks team that would be a good match for any opposition, unfortunately Passmores was not able to get the win but that result only tells half the story. It was a strong defensive display by the team and potentially if we cut out the attacking errors the result may have been different. Our second game for the year 10s saw them play against a reduced, but still talented team of St Nicks, where our boys showed an unbelievable level of resilience in sticking together and fighting for the badge but fell short once again, a game of fine margins indeed. The boys could walk off that field with their heads held high and be proud of the performance they put in

On the over side we had our year 8s playing games against both Stewards and St Marks. After a long wait whilst those schools played each other, our year 8s were ready to go, well we thought so... We started slowly which ultimately cost us! But once they warmed up, we were right in the game against Stewards, we were fighting for every ball in the ruck and hitting and sticking our tackles. In the end we just ran out of time and Stewards picked up the win this time. There was no rest, and we were straight on again against St Marks, where as a team we picked up where we left off, with some excellent attacking phases used to our advantage. But ultimately the speed and athleticism of St Marks got them the result we fought so hard for.

Well done to both year groups you did us proud!

Thursday 3rd October our U16 Netball girls welcomed William Edwards to our Sports Hall in the Essex cup competition where we started strongly building a strong lead going into the final quarter where it seemed we tried our best to make it as hard as possible for ourselves, but we stuck together coming away with a good win to progress us to the next round, all eyes will be on the draw to see who we face next. Well done team Passmores!

Our first house events of the year began this Wednesday, with year 11s Rugby and Netball. This saw the year 11 Unicorn girls take the bragging rights finishing top in their round robin tournament versus the other houses. For the boys it was the fire breathing Dragons that finished on top only down to scoring one more try than second place.

What Parents & Educators Need to Know about IN-GAME CHAT

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

Video games are continuing to grow in popularity – including, of course, among children and young people – and the emergence of gaming communities has been accelerated by the inclusion of chat functionality across many different titles. While in-game chat isn't inherently a bad thing, it can create some concerns about online safety and the people that children might be interacting with.

DIFFERENT TYPES OF CHAT

There are a number of ways that gamers commonly chat with one another online. As the name would suggest, in-game chat happens within the game itself. There's also party chat: a group voice conversation that console users can have with anyone on the same platform. This tends to be more commonly used by players who already know each other. Finally, many gamers – especially on PC – will chat via a third-party app such as Discord.

CONTACT WITH STRANGERS

Whether it's text- or voice-based, in-game chat is frequently open to all players to use. Many games default to making it an opt-in function, but some don't: meaning a child could start seeing messages within the game from people they're playing with, regardless of whether they know those individuals or not. While most strangers won't necessarily have ill intent, there are some who may behave inappropriately when chatting to a child – intentionally or otherwise.

DANGER OF GROOMING

It's been reported that some young gamers have encountered older players online who pretend to be a lower age to manipulate children, sending gifts in exchange for chatting and sending photos. Just as on any messaging platform, it's good to advise young people to avoid speaking to strangers; emphasise that they shouldn't accept gifts from anyone online that they don't know.

BULLYING AND ABUSE

While some in-game chat can turn toxic because of how a match plays out, others turn that way because of people who engage in trolling – in essence, behaving in an offensive and abusive way simply to cause pain or get a rise out of whoever they're talking to. These 'trolls' often lean on racial slurs, anti-LGBT sentiment and other hateful rhetoric; they normally feel most confident preying on younger, more impressionable gamers.

POTENTIAL FOR PRIVATE CHAT

If a player would like a re-match with a stranger after meeting them in the game, they can send a friend request, or use the party chat together in the future. For the most part, this is harmless – but it might lead to messages being exchanged in private. This could then escalate to the sharing of private information, and potentially attempts to manipulate or scam younger players.

COMPETITIVE ATMOSPHERE

Certain games are very competitive, and players can sometimes get upset if they feel a teammate is underperforming, an opponent won unfairly, or they're just a bad loser. This can lead to unpleasant messages that stray away from playful 'trash talk' and wander into the territory of bullying. Some players have been known to get incredibly abusive in situations like this, and the impact of this on a young gamer's emotional wellbeing could be severe.

Advice for Parents & Educators

LOCK-DOWN IN-GAME CHAT

In-game chat can often be disabled in the game's settings. This allows children to play without risk of contact from strangers – but it will need to be done in each individual game. Text chat appears in the corner of the screen in many titles, so it's normally easy to take a quick glance and see what's being said. With voice chat, explain to children what behaviour is inappropriate, so they can spot the dangers themselves.

REPORT POTENTIAL OFFENDERS

Most games offer a robust means of reporting other players, so you can flag an account as potentially harmful. This normally leads to the account not being matched with yours in the future and, if that person's conduct breaks any of the game's rules, they may be banned from playing entirely. This is done within the game itself, so each title has a slightly different process, but these tend to be designed for simplicity.

CONSIDER OTHER CHAT OPTIONS

If a child wants to play with people they know, consider using party chat or a third-party service like Discord. This allows everyone involved to chat on a private server and even enjoy each other's company while playing different games. It's also far more secure, as anyone looking to join will need to request and be granted access – normally by whoever is hosting the chat.

COMMUNICATION IS KEY

Make sure children understand the differences between being competitive and being abusive. Talk about what constitutes unusual or inappropriate behaviour from strangers online. Be clear that if anything ever concerns or worries them, they should tell a trusted adult as soon as possible. Empower children to identify the risks of in-game chat for themselves and reassure them they won't get in trouble for seeking help if anything goes wrong.
