Thursday 13 th October	Small groups of students (approx. 1 hour per group)	Coaching 1: A workshop session in small groups where students explore their strengths, facilitated by a Yes Futures Programme Manager. This will be followed by an online one-to-one coaching session with a Yes Futures Coach.
Thursday 10 th November	Full school day trip (Exact times TBC)	Play Your Part: A day trip where students take part in a local team community action project. Students develop key teamwork and communication skills, realising how they can help others and seeing the benefits of 'giving back'.
Thursday 17 th November	Small groups of students (approx. 1 hour per group)	Coaching 2: A workshop session in small groups where students explore their strengths, facilitated by a Yes Futures Programme Manager. This will be followed by an online one-to-one coaching session with a Yes Futures Coach.
Thursday 1 st December	Full school day trip (Exact times TBC)	World of Work: A day trip where students will develop a clearer understanding of working life through valuable, first-hand experience visiting and networking at an inspirational workplace.
Thursday 15 th December	Small groups of students (approx. 1 hour per group)	Coaching 3: A workshop session in small groups where students explore their strengths, facilitated by a Yes Futures Programme Manager. This will be followed by an online one-to-one coaching session with a Yes Futures Coach.
Friday 13 th – Sunday 15 th January	Full weekend residential trip (Friday AM – Sunday PM)	Into the Wild: A three-day residential trip to an outdoor activity centre. Students from different schools come together to develop teamwork, communication skills and resilience through a range of challenges in an unfamiliar environment.
Thursday 19 th January	Small groups of students (approx. 1 hour per group) During/after school with teachers (approx. 1 hour)	Coaching 4: A workshop session in small groups where students are introduced to self-coaching, facilitated by a Yes Futures Programme Manager. This will be followed by an online one-to-one coaching session with a Yes Futures Coach. Students will focus on progress made, understanding how to move forward independently with self-coaching skills for the future. Graduation: Students celebrate their achievements throughout the programme and are presented with a certificate, in front of teachers.

March - June	Student-led	Over to You: Students begin their self-coaching journey, taking responsibility for setting goals for themselves.
May	Meeting / call	Impact Meeting: To discuss the progress of students and how school can continue to support them. This will be led by the Yes Futures Director of Impact and will be conducted online or in-person, depending on the latest guidance.
June / July	Small groups of students (Exact times TBC)	Forward to the Future workshop: Run five months after the Graduation, this is a chance for the Yes Futures team to check in with students' progress, enabling students to reflect on their development since the programme and share their next steps for the future with their peers. This session prompts students to continue their positive developments and allows the Yes Futures team to assess longer-term impact.
